Justice A.S. Anand
(1936-2017)

Adarsh Sein Anand, a constitutional expert and an advocate of human rights and civil liberties, was born on 1 November 1936. He received his early education at Jammu and graduated from the Jammu and Kashmir University in 1958. He pursued L.L.B from Lucknow University in 1960 and was awarded a doctorate in Law (Constitutional Law of Commonwealth) from the University of London in 1963. He passed the Bar Exam at the Inner Temple, London in 1964.

After completing his education in law, he practiced in criminal law, constitutional law and election law at the Punjab and Haryana High Court in Chandigarh and by dint of sheer hard work and merit rose to be the Additional Judge of Jammu and Kashmir High Court (1976-1985); Chief Justice, Jammu and Kashmir High Court (1985-89), and Madras High Court (1989- 1991); Judge, Supreme Court of India (1991-1998); and Chief Justice of India (1998-2001).

Justice Anand participated in various national and international conferences, notable among them was the first Appellate Judge Conference at Manila, Philippines (1977); Appellate Judges' Conference, New Delhi (1984); the Law Conference, New Delhi (1994); 2nd Worldwide Common Law Judiciary Conference at Washington DC, USA (1997) and SAARC Chief Justices' Conference at Colombo, Sri Lanka (1998).

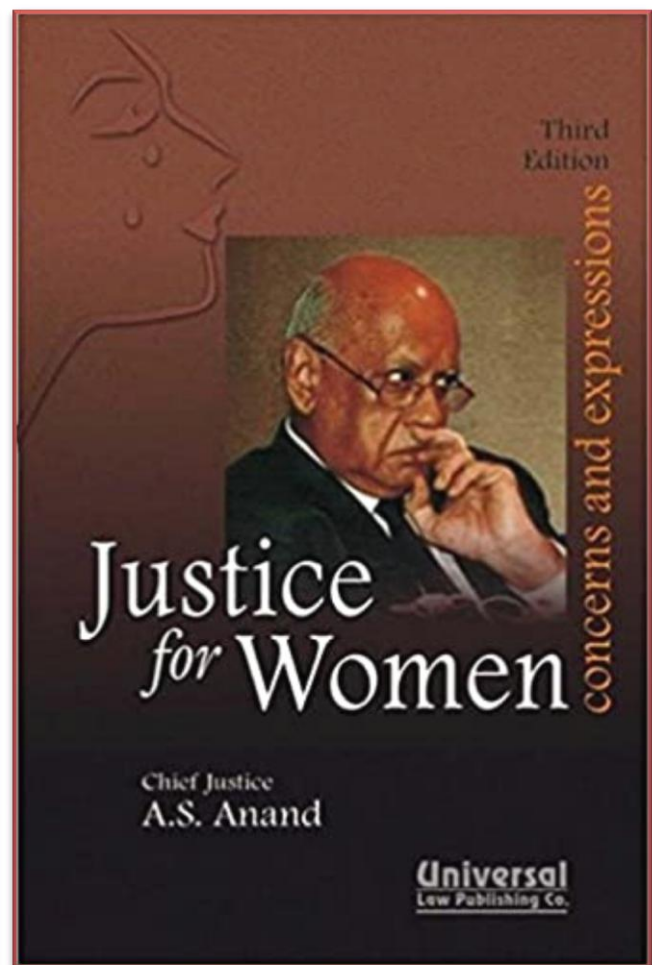

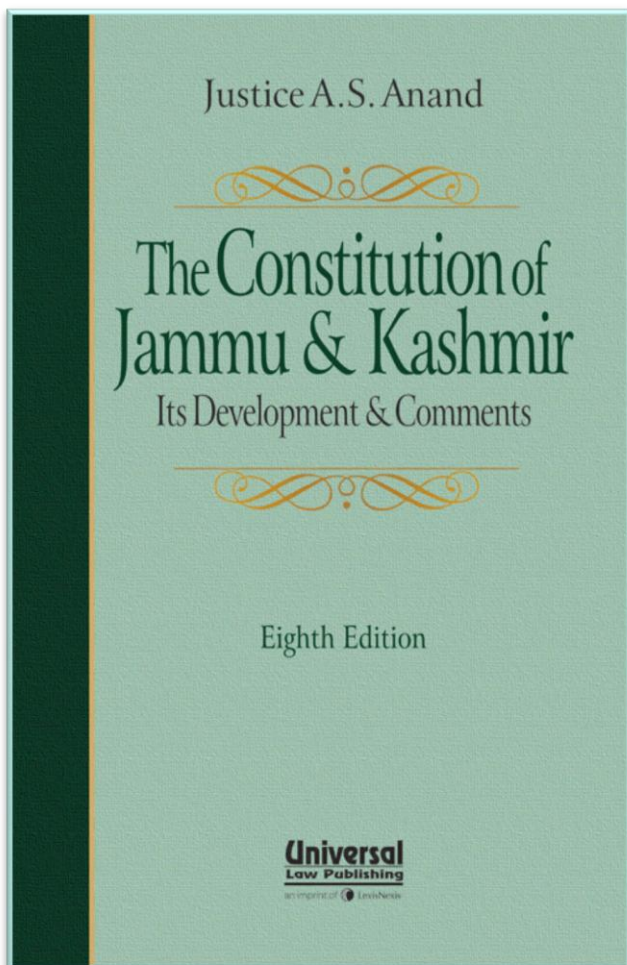

Justice Anand was awarded an honorary doctorate in Law by Lucknow University in 1996. He was elected the President of the International Institute of Human Rights Society and was the first Indian to be honoured with a fellowship of the University College, London, 1997.

An advocate of inexpensive and affordable justice to all, Justice Anand was appointed Chairperson of the National Human Rights Commission (2003-2007), and head of a five-member empowered committee set up by the Supreme Court to examine the safety aspects of the Mullaperiyar Dam in Kerala, 2010.

Apart from the Padma Vibhushan (2008), Justice Anand also received several prestigious awards for his outstanding contribution to the field of judiciary and an unflinching commitment to human welfare and justice namely, the Shiromani Award – 2002 (2003), Plaque of Honour from the University of Lucknow (2004), and Dogra Ratan Award for Promotion of Dogri Language, Culture & History, Jammu (2006). He was also honoured with National Law Day Award by the President of India (2007).

Justice A.S. Anand wrote two books, The Constitution of Jammu and Kashmir: its Development and Comments and Justice for Women: Concerns and Expressions.

Justice A.S. Anand passed away on 1 December 2017.
